DID YOUR HOUSE FLOOD? YOU MAY BE ELIGIBLE FOR HELP TO ELEVATE IT

Flood Mitigation Assistance Money is Available

- The National Flood Insurance Fund (NFIF) is a FEMA fund that uses money appropriated by Congress to pay for activities and programs that reduce or eliminate flood insurance claims. That includes money to raise or elevate your home.

How do you qualify?

- You MUST have flood insurance to qualify for this program, and you must maintain flood insurance coverage while you own the property. If the property is sold, the new homeowner/s must maintain flood insurance on the property.

1. This program pays to physically raise flood-prone structures above the base flood elevation. It requires a 10% cost match by the homeowner, with 90% paid by the NFIF. Your home MUST be considered as a severe repetitive flood loss property, then the funding can be up to 100%. The National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) also offers the assistance of up to $30,000 to assist in elevating your home.

2. You are responsible for any costs not funded by this program.
